Roundup River Ranch Brings Children with Life-Threatening Illnesses to Camp
Through the "On the Road" Program

Edwards, Colorado— This summer Roundup River Ranch is bringing 25 children with life-threatening illnesses to Hole in the Wall Camps across the country through the "On the Road" program. Four groups of children with diseases ranging from cancer, heart and liver transplant patients, HIV, sickle cell anemia and bleeding disorders will have the opportunity to attend camp for what may be the first time in their lives. The children will attend The Painted Turtle in California, Victory Junction in North Carolina and The Hole in the Wall Gang Camp in Connecticut. Roundup River Ranch offers these children a safe place to be children, and experience an important part of childhood with the availability of immediate treatment from expert medical staff.

Every summer at Hole in the Wall Camps, hundreds of children become athletes and actors, painters and poets, swimmers and singers, equestrians, canoe paddlers and hot air balloonists. The obstacles they overcome on a daily basis are incredible, but camp offers them an opportunity to accomplish things they never thought they would even have the chance to try. The experience and memories of camp help these children keep their spirits up throughout the many challenges of a serious illness.

Roundup River Ranch is accepting donations to sponsor sending a child to camp. $1000 sends a child to camp who would not otherwise have the opportunity.

Roundup River Ranch, located on 85 stunning acres along the Colorado River just north of Dotsero, Colorado, is expected to break ground later this year. The camp will provide children who may not otherwise have the opportunity to experience camp with a fun, memorable, safe and empowering experience, all free of charge. The Children's Hospital of Denver is the founding partner hospital, ensuring that the children will have on-site the medical services necessary to their conditions. The camp will serve children from Colorado as well as Wyoming, Montana, New Mexico, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Utah and Texas. As a provisional member of The Hole in the Wall Camps, Roundup River Ranch is proud to continue Paul Newman's dream of opening camps for children with serious medical illnesses. The Hole in the Wall Camps are widely viewed as setting the standard for excellence and offering children a new lease on life, one week at a time.
