

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

December 4, 2008

Contact: Liana Moore

970.471.4428

liana@sparkmaker.com

TRIUMPH DEVELOPMENT GIVES BACK TO LOCAL COMMUNITY

Vail, Colorado—Triumph Development, developer of the recently completed Willows and proposed Marketplace, continues to give back to the community through sponsorship of local non-profit organizations at a time when it is needed the most. Triumph believes in being an integral part of the community where they do business and to this end they are investing in and giving back to the Vail community. One channel through which they are doing this is by sponsoring a broad range of Vail Valley Foundation projects, the Triumph Winter Fest, the Snowshoe Shuffle and the Rotary Duck Race. “Years from now, it will be important what the Vail development says about their reputation. Some developers just come into town, build and leave, but Triumph is building a reputation,” said Ron Byrne with Ron Byrne & Associates Real Estate.

A cornerstone sponsorship was crafted by the Vail Valley Foundation (VVF) for Triumph Development to support many VVF projects including the Audi Birds of Prey World Cup races, Teva Mountain Games, Vail International Dance Festival, Gerald R. Ford Amphitheater, Bud Light Street Beat, Bud Light Hot Summer Nights and American National Bank ShowDown Town concert series. The Foundation also serves as a funding source for several education initiatives in Eagle County. Triumph Development intends to help the Vail Valley through sponsorship of events that drive tourism and enhance the lives of residents and visitors alike. This sponsorship accomplishes this goal by supporting most major sporting and cultural events, in the Vail Valley. Ceil Folz, President of the Vail Valley Foundation commented on the recent partnership saying, “As cornerstone sponsors of the Vail Valley Foundation, Steve Virostek and Triumph Development make a significant impact on our ability to continue to provide the highest level of programming through athletics, education and culture to the entire Vail Valley community.”

Due to Triumph Development’s commitment to people and values, they have been able to successfully developed real estate in excess of 3 million square feet and $280 million dollars while fostering good working relationships with all concerned parties – including state and local governments, community groups and neighborhood commissions. Along the way, they’ve been recognized for smart growth and transit-oriented development, not to mention praise from clients for getting things done on time and within budget. The two hands-on principals, Steve Virostek and James Fangmeyer, have more than 30 years of combined experience in the development business, and their track record of win/win success for all parties is the standard for Triumph Development. The way they do business is as important to them as the business they do. As Rod Slifer said, "Steve Virostek is a very responsible developer here in Vail. His Willows re-development project is nearly completed and is just a vast improvement over what was there and I think it will be a great addition to our community."

For more information visit www.triumphdev.com.

###